this floor Bedrooms: BR 1 and 2 each with 2 twins, BR 3 and 4 each have a single, BR 5 has a queen and a twin, BR 6 has a full, BR 7 the master with King; BR 8 with two twins; BR 9 with King; BR 10 and 11 with Queens. Total: 9 twins, 3 queens, two kings, a full-the bed sizes are being checked but this is what I have on my notes Baths: the mansion has 4.5 baths recently updated into 3/4 baths. History: Blythewood was the dream home of William Avery Grippen (1851-1911) President of the Bridgeport Malleable Iron Company, the Troy Malleable Iron Company in Troy; the North and Judd Manufacturing Company of New Britain and the Vulcan Ironworks in New Britain, Connecticut. He was born in Corinth, NY to a local farming family who traced their roots in Corinth back to the 1770s. After being mostly self taught until attending the Eastman Business College Grippen went to work at a Troy firm making malleable iron castings in 1869. He became very successful and around the turn of the century decided to build his dream mansion on Skerry Point, Gull Bay. Joseph W. Northrup of Bridgeport, Connecticut was selected as the architect and it took about 4 years to complete the project. A notation in the paper 25 June 1904 announced that the house was completed. Grippen also made the news that year for his 36' electric yacht. He died in 1911. Interestingly enough Grippen's daughter, Mrs. Dudley Mixer Morris is also recognized for the home she and her husband built: The Chimneys, said to be Bridgeport, Connecticut's largest private home. The Blythewood of today has been restored to its earlier glamour with certain modifications such as the updated kitchen to make the rental situation a wonderful experience. A great vacation destination
